S
for intel. I have received your invention disclosure for the "WAP Device Manager -- Management of Intel Network Equipment from a WAP supporting cellular" and will be writing a US patent application. There are several preliminary matters that I need to resolve before beginning:

[REDACTED]-- Which of you should be my primary contact for information concerning this invention? What is your preferred method of communication? I am using email initially because I don't think I have useable phone numbers. The disclosure lists some American-looking numbers but I think these are internal intel numbers.
